

|  |  |
|--|--|
| 201. Ageratina .....                  | Don't cry for me Ageratina                                      |
| 202. Amaranths.....                          | Gonna take a sanguinary journey  |
| 203. Apple.....                              | Juicy Fruit  |
| 204. Angelica .....                   | Candy is dandy but licorice is quicker-ish                             |
| 205. Aster .....                      | Tastin' away again in Margaritaville                                   |
| 206. Aster Family spotlight.....             | You'll be stoked about these asters                                    |
| 207. American Asclepias overview..... | Milkweed does a larva good   |
| 208. Basswood - Red Spotted Purples.....     | Meet me under the linden tree and I will give my love to thee          |
| 209. Beautyberry .....                       | To fill a mockingbird  |
| 210. Bee Balm .....                          | Who told you to put the balm on?                                       |
| 211. Mint Family spotlight.....              | Don't go menthol into that good night                                  |
| 212. Black-eyed Susan .....                  | My name is Sue! How do you do? Now you're gonna dye!                   |
| 213. Blackberry.....                         | Thornless cobbler vs. time gobbler                                     |
| 214. Black Locust.....                       | A locus for change for strip mining                                    |
| 215. Blazing Star, Liatris .....      | You light up my spike  |
| 216. Blue Star Amsonia .....                 | Blue stars, smiling at me; nothing but blue stars do I see             |
| 217. Blueberries and Heaths .....            | The legend lives on from Chippewa on down                              |
| 218. Boneset.....                            | Oh, bring back my boneset to me, to me                                 |
| 219. Bougainvillea .....              | Boogie Woogie Bougainvillea from Company B                      |
| 220. Buddleja .....                   | This bud's for you   |
| 221. Buttercup.....                          | Sing us a song, you're the Rana man                             |
| 222. Buttonbush.....                         | Sputnik-shaped seeds   |
| 223. Calendula .....                  | Hang down your head, Calen-dula                                 |
| 224. Cherry .....                            | My cherry amour  |
| 225. Chicory .....                           | She's a blanching queen, young and green                               |
| 226. Chili Peppers (for larvae).....         | Salsa for hornworms  |
| 227. Cleavers, Bedstraw .....                | Leave it to cleaver  |
| 228. Clematis .....                   | Climb every mailbox, vine each extreme                                 |
| 229. Cleome .....                     | Peter Piper picked a peck of pickled capers                            |
| 230. Clethra .....                    | Exfoliating bark for beauty  |
| 231. Clovers.....                            | Thou anointed my field with trefoil; my crop runneth over              |
| 232. Coneflower .....                        | Romancing the cones  |
| 233. Coreopsis .....                  | A koris line at the Grand ole Coreopsis                         |
| 234. Cosmos .....                     | Keep on growing Cosmos , oh, for the borderline                 |
| 235. Crocus .....                     | Thou shalt not commit saffron adultery                                 |
| 236. Culver's Root .....                     | Gonna shake an in-continental journey                                  |
| 237. Daffodils .....                         | Sunny, thank you for the love you brought my way                       |
| 238. Daisy .....                             | I got daisies, in green pastures; who could ask for anything more?     |
| 239. Dame's Rocket.....                      | Rocket Dame, and I think its gonna be a long, long time                |
| 240. Dandelion .....                         | Doing their best sunshine impression                                   |
| 241. Delphinium .....                 | Shine your light, shine your light; feel a del-phin-ium freedom |
| 242. Dianthus .....                   | We are the chompions , my friend                                |
| 243. Elderberry .....                        | Open up a can of whip-lash on them                                     |
| 244. Evening Primrose .....                  | Gonna wait 'till the midnight flowers                                  |
| 245. Foxglove.....                           | Just a wee-wee bit of difference                                       |
| 246. Franklinia .....                 | Such is the stuff that sunbeams are made of                            |
| 247. Gaillardia .....                 | You can grown your own rays  |
| 248. Gaura .....                      | Little pals on the prairie   |
| 249. Golden Ragwort.....                     | All that is gold does not glitter; All that glitters is not gold       |
| 250. Goldenrod.....                          | Fast food cafe: with 100 billion paying customers                      |
| 251. Heliotrope.....                         | To everything, trope, trope, trope                                     |
| 252. Hollyhocks and Mallows .....            | To-mallow, to-mallow, I love you, to-mallow; you're only a ray away    |
| 253. Honeysuckle.....                        | Loni-cera, Loni-cera , men have loathed you                     |
| 254. Impatiens .....                  | Jewelweed of the Wild  |
| 255. Indian Hemp Dogbane.....                | Bane-ished to the hinterlands  |